Standards may relate to materials, manufacturing and installation. Products that meet Australian or international standards will have written certification. To find out if a product meets Australian Standards ask the supplier to show you the certificate. For more information about standards also see TGA Many of the items on the Assistive Technology Australia website are categorised as a Medical Device. Medical devices that are approved for use in Australia have been entered into a national database called the Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods (ARTG), which is maintained by the Therapeutic Goods Administration (TGA). You can ask the supplier for the ARTG number for the device you wish to purchase and search the ARTG for the entry. To access information on the ARTG visit www.tga.gov.au When buying a medical device it is advisable to only choose a medical device that is recommended by a healthcare professional and has been included on the ARTG. The overall score is made up of vision score (25%), dexterity score (25%), sound receiving score (20%), sound sending score (15%), SMS score (10%), and manual and support score (5%). SIM installation is assessed but doesn't contribute to the overall score. R E K L A M A Some ASPERA Phone User's Manual PDF are above the page. ASPERA is an Australian brand, a part of IBM.
